Company Overview

Bay Area Industrial is a U.S. based custom corrugated packaging manufacturer providing responsive, high-quality packaging solutions for commercial and government customers. We maintain a large inventory of corrugated materials, allowing us to manufacture custom boxes on accelerated timelines when mission-critical needs arise. Our production capabilities range from one-off prototypes to high-volume manufacturing, enabling us to support projects of any size. Standard lead time is 2-4 weeks, with expedited production available when required. We are committed to exceptional customer service, delivering accurate quotations within 24-48 hours and providing dependable on-time delivery to meet our customers' operational requirements.
